

What do to if you suspect a blocked central line?

Remember to report any adverse signs or symptoms to the medical team responsible for the patients care and document them