

Endotracheal tube migration and cuff leak

AIM: To provide a safe framework for new non-anaesthetic doctors working in Critical Care to appropriately manage problems with ETT when asked to review a patient. It does not equate to advanced airway training.

SCOPE: Adult patients ventilated in Critical Care. Often you will be called to check a patients tube because it has moved.

