Dear Duane

The 3Ts project is very exciting and will bring huge benefits to infection prevention and control at BSUH. The new build will greatly increase the number of single inpatient rooms, which will enable us to safely isolate patients with infections and well as protect our patients with weakened immune systems. The new buildings have been designed with infection prevention and control in mind. They will be easy to clean and have been designed to minimise the risk of cross infection.

The Trust's Infection Prevention and Control team has been fully involved and engaged with the 3Ts project and fully support it.
