Jowers ward

Welcome to Jowers ward

Welcome to Jowers ward at the Royal Sussex County Hospital in Brighton.

Jowers ward is an eleven bed unit for patients receiving treatment from the care of the elderly medical teams.

We hope all patients and visitors will have a pleasant experience on our ward.

If you have any questions or concerns, please speak to a member of staff.

Blanket Project

We are dedicated to delivering outstanding care for all our patients on Jowers ward.

One of our on-going projects is the 'personal blanket' scheme, which provides patients with a colourful and identifiable blanket for their bed. These blankets help patients to orientate and identify their own bed space which is important if a patient becomes confused. They also help to personalise their space while on the ward.

This project has been running now for over five years and has contributed to a significant reduction of falls on Jowers ward. Any donations will be gratefully received to be able to replace any lost or old blankets.

Clothing and toiletries

Wherever possible we encourage patients to wear their own clothes during their stay with us. This will help you to feel more yourself. Please bring in appropriate clothing and footwear and arrange for a friend or relative to wash these items as we do not have laundry facilities on the ward.

Please arrange for someone to provide suitable toiletries for your stay. Many of our patients often arrive on the ward at very short notice without toiletries. Although the Trust provides some basic items it would be much nicer for you to have your own toiletries.

Thank you
